Mike,

I just wanted to make you aware of this. It's a series of comments (from a BOH member) that were posted on the community page underneath our tobacco hearing posting.

I don't think there's much of anything that can be done, but it certainly raises questions about ethics and professionalism. The person is of course entitled to their opinion, this just didn't seem like the venue for it. Just wanted to make sure you knew in case anything comes of it. Thank you.
