

ECONOMIC RECOVERY CORPS

A New Partnership for Economic Transformation

Create Change as an Economic Recovery Corps Fellow!

IEDC and its partners are seeking to connect up to 65 Economic Recovery Corps (ERC) Fellows with partnering communities for 30 months to activate economic development projects or plans that generate innovative practices and paradigms for equitable and inclusive change.

Who Should Apply as a Fellow?

Fellows will be early- to mid-career professionals from diverse backgrounds and disciplines. Ideal fellows are natural community builders who have an entrepreneurial spirit, an eye for innovation, and comfort with ambiguity.

We are seeking community and economic development practitioners, planners, and organizers with at least 5 years of work experience who are ready to advance a local or regional economic development strategy or transformative project in distressed communities nationwide.

Join us!

Apply by August 15.

ECONOMIC RECOVERY CORPS

A New Partnership for Economic Transformation

Professional Development

Throughout this 30 month paid opportunity, fellows can take advantage of direct training, mentorship, coaching, connections, and support from the ERC partner coalition, along with access to robust professional development via trainings, networking, courses, peer-to-peer learning, research, and conferences.

Who are the Host Organizations?

From city and county government to regional coalitions, Tribal Nations, economic development organizations (EDOs) and districts (EDDs), and entrepreneurial technical assistance providers, hosts will reflect our industry across rural and urban areas.

Fellows and hosts alike will directly participate in the interview process to ensure fellows are matched with projects that align with their specific expertise and regional knowledge.
